- Figure 1 displays five grayscale images arranged vertically, each representing a different stage or class of a pattern. The images are labeled on the right side:
- Class 1: A completely empty, white rectangular area.
 - Class 2: A rectangular area filled with a dense, random, noisy pattern.
 - Class 3: A rectangular area filled with a dense, random, noisy pattern, similar to Class 2.
 - Class 4: A rectangular area filled with a dense, random, noisy pattern, showing some horizontal banding or structure.
 - Era: A rectangular area filled with a dense, random, noisy pattern, similar to the others.
